

Photos from Alan Chachich

Copyright A. Chachich

IEEE Plasma conference in NYC, 1981. Backrow, left to right: Joseph; Lief of brutal viking ancestors; Kourash son of Persian Kings, or was that Persian Comedians?; don't recognize the next one; John the gun maker. Bottom row, left to right: Darryl, international field hockey champion; Paul, the only one in the picture who understood what was going on, without whom none of the rest would have graduated.

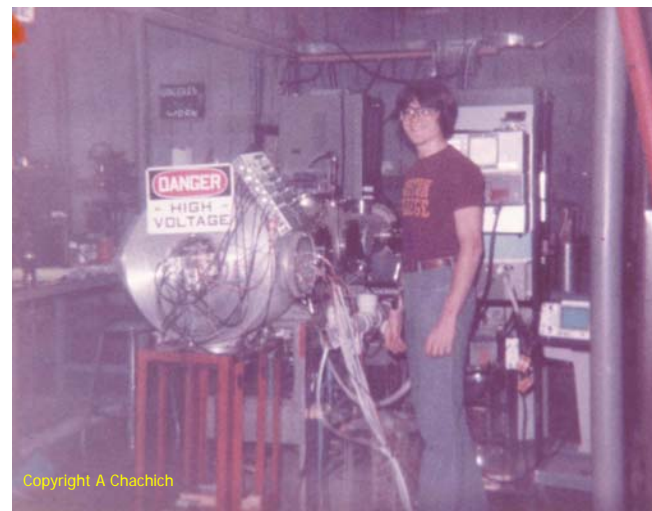

Copyright A. Chachich

A: They actually think we understand this. Pretty funny, eh?
D: Yes. Funny.

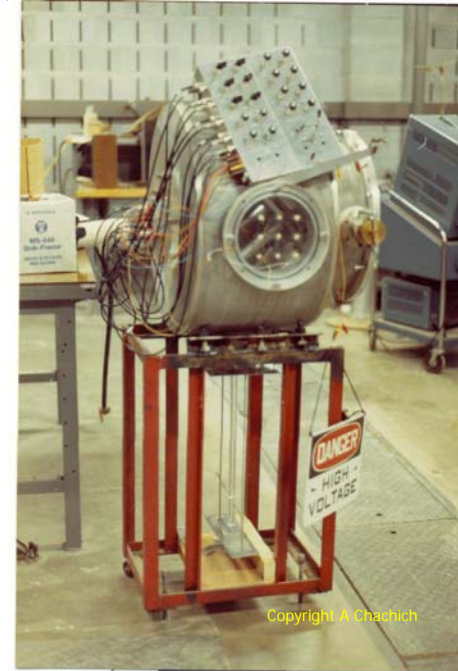

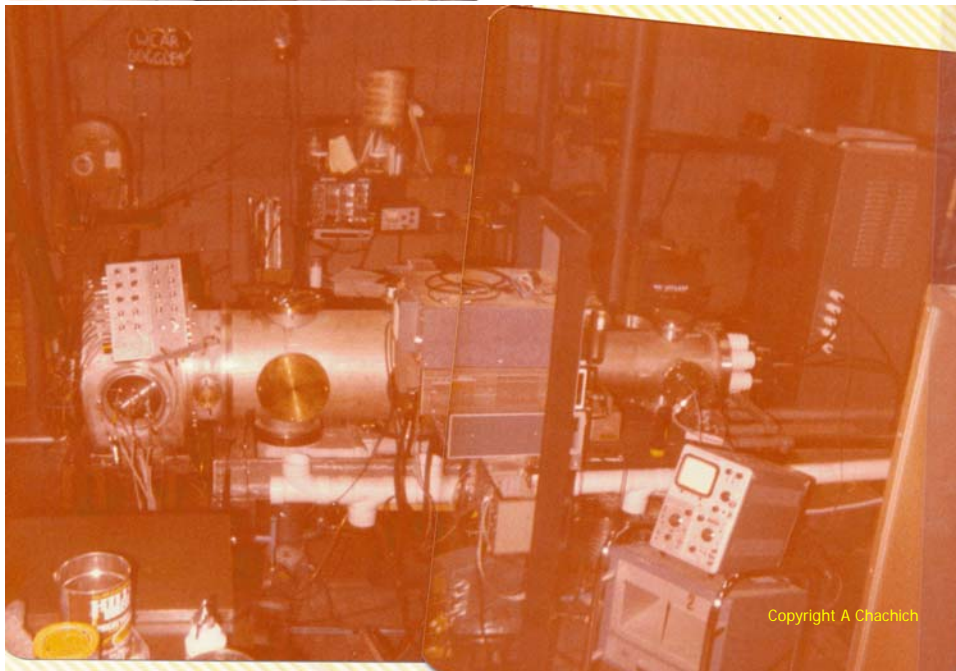

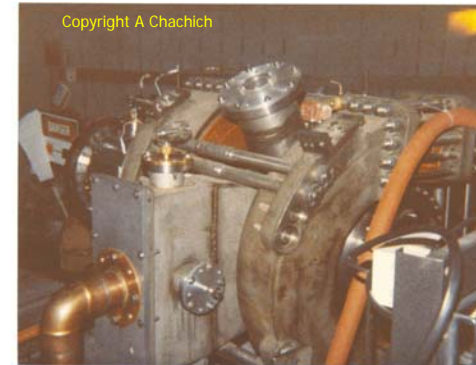

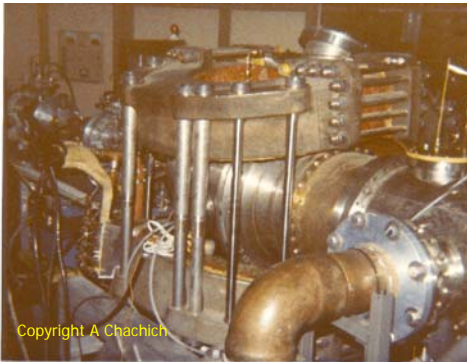

Copyright A. Chachich

What happens when you play field hockey instead of doing your plasma physics homework.

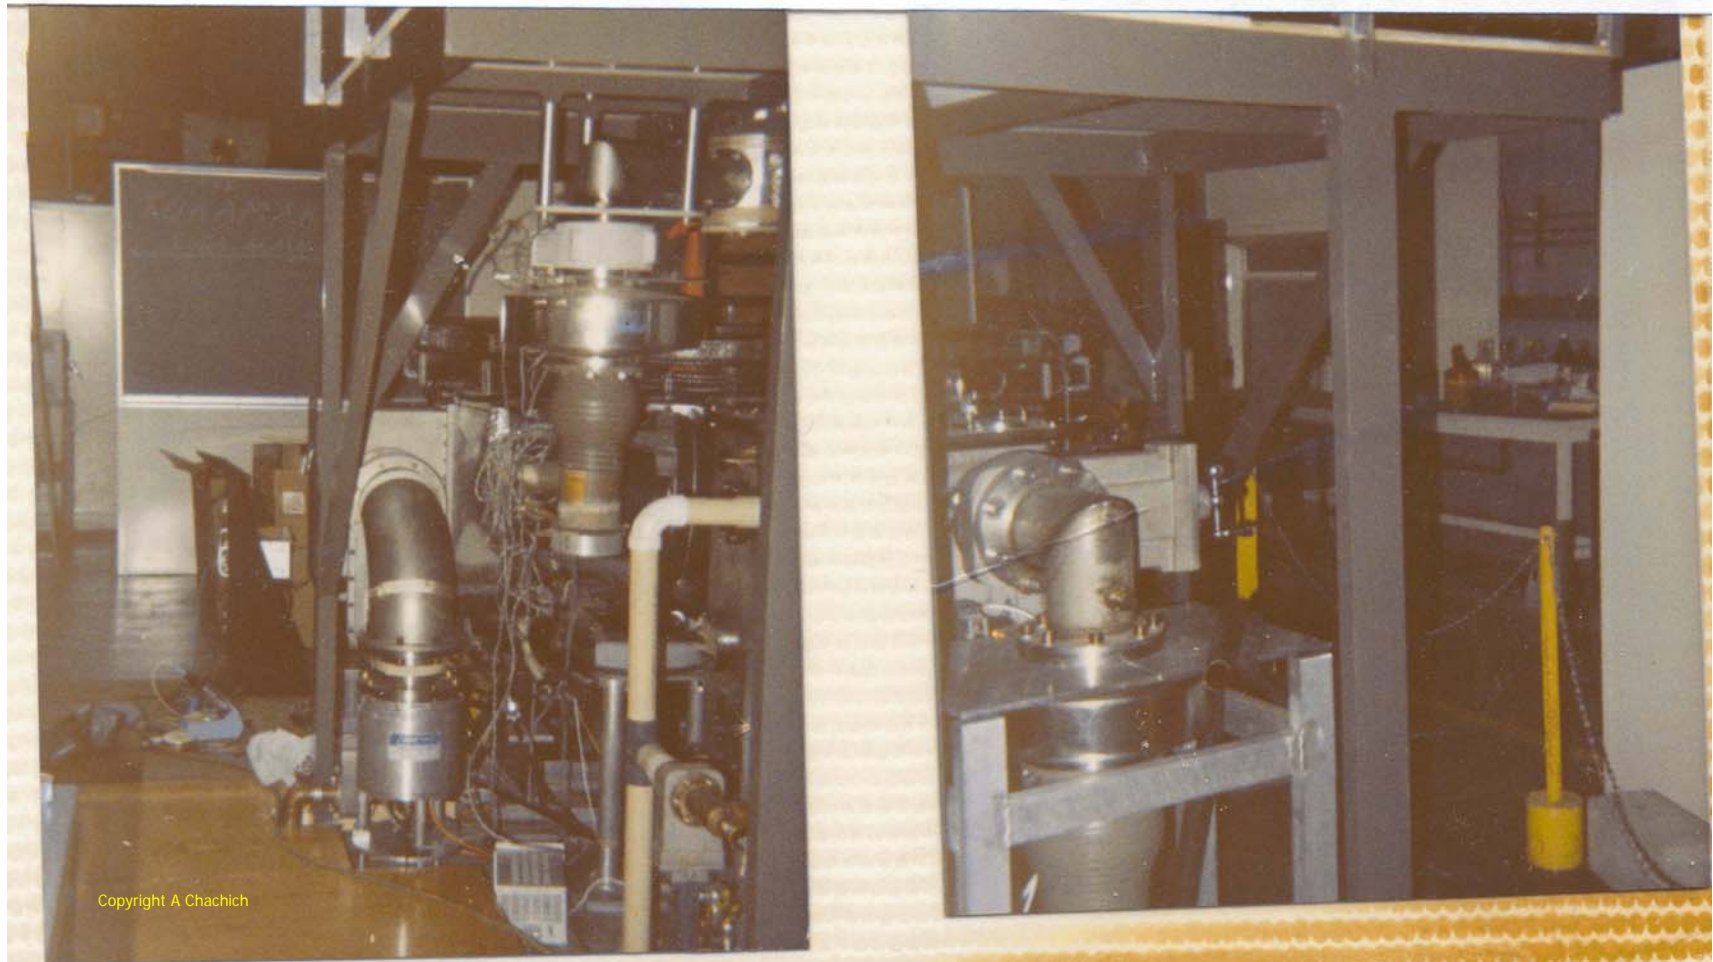

Copyright A. Chachich

Photos from Alan Chachich

Photos from Alan Chachich

Copyright A Chachich

Photos from Alan Chachich

Safety preparedness training